By Jim Hart

TVA Recreation

Who would have ever thought back in 1933 when construction was begun on the system of dams along the Tennessee River in North Alabama that recreation would one day be one of the dominating side effects of this multi-billion dollar program? Today more than 50,000 recreation hours, valued at $40 million, are kept on the vast network of lakes and rivers. There are public parks, boat docks and resorts all across northern Alabama and it is estimated that these facilities are worth approximately $140 million. Primarily seven states are included in these TVA projects but Alabamians really get more than 1/7 of the recreational value.

Fishing is permitted all year in TVA lakes and, according to most old timers, best catches are generally made in the Spring and early Fall. Almost every type of fish and fishing tackle will be seen along the banks and in the boats. The principal game fishes are smallmouth, largemouth, spotted and white basses, crappie, walleye and sunfish. You can just about take your pick and be assured of catching the limit.

Another magnetic attraction of the lakes is boating. The waters are excellent for almost every kind of boating; outboards, yachts, sailboats, river steamers and even canoes. There is a dock or boat landing at almost every town and community along the lake shorelines.

Overnight camping is permissible on the many miles of publicly owned shorelines and the State of Alabama operates two public parks; Joe Wheeler State Park, nine miles north of Town Creek near Florence and Little Mountain State Park near Guntersville. There are also motels and hotels near the larger cities along the Tennessee River. You don't have to drag a boat and camping trailer along when you visit the TVA; almost everything you need can be rented right on the spot, even water skis.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Facts Concerning Pulpwood Work

The pulpwood business is becoming more important to the people in Coffee County according to Harry N. Scott, District Manager of the Social Security Administration. Since we now have more industries in the area that use pulpwood, cutting and selling pulpwood is no longer something the farmer does in his off season. For many Coffee Countians, it has become a separate business.

"Pulpwood producers and workers have many questions about this work, and how it ties in with social security. The right answers to these questions can be very important to them," Mr. Scott said.

Some producers think they must have four or more workers before they have to make social security reports. This is not true. If a producer has just one worker on his payroll, his wages are covered by social security. The earnings, regardless of the amount, must be reported to the Internal Revenue Service at the end of each calendar quarter.

Some producers think workers who are paid by the cord are not employees. The way the worker is paid does not make the worker an independent contractor. The Internal Revenue Service or the Social Security Administration will be glad to advise employers and employees on these and any other questions.

Mr. Scott advised pulpwood producers who have one or more employees and have never filed returns to get an Employer's Identification Number and file their quarterly returns. Each return must show the worker's name, social security number, and wage amounts.

The nearest Internal Revenue Office or Social Security Office will help producers get an Employer's Identification Number or answer any question about working in the pulpwood industry. For the convenience of the people living in Coffee County, Charles W. Akers, a representative of the Dothan Social Security Office, will be at the Health Center in Elba on August 24 and September 14.

OLD WOODEN BRIDGE TO BE REPLACED - Pictured are two scenes of an old wooden bridge, known as the Lowery Bridge, crossing White Water Creek. The bridge is located only a few feet off the farm to market road leading to Jack, off the Troy Highway. The old wooden bridge is one of the longest such bridges to be found anywhere. The new bridge will be 361 feet long. The top view of the Lowery bridge was taken looking east. The bottom photo was taken from near the creek edge showing the center of the bridge as an automobile from toward Victoria crosses it to the Jack-Elba road. The bridge is in very bad need of replacing and is risky to cross.

The Board of Commissioners voted in Monday's meeting to replace this old wooden bridge with a concrete one. They will call for bids in October for this replacement. The bridge is a dividing line between Districts No. One, and No. Two. Gene Brown is Commissioner in District One, located on the west side of the bridge, and Claude Tindal in District No. Two, which is located on the east side of the bridge. Byron Galloway was nominated in the Democratic Primary in the spring to serve as Commissioner of District No. Two.

ELBA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 27, 1964

NUMBER 60

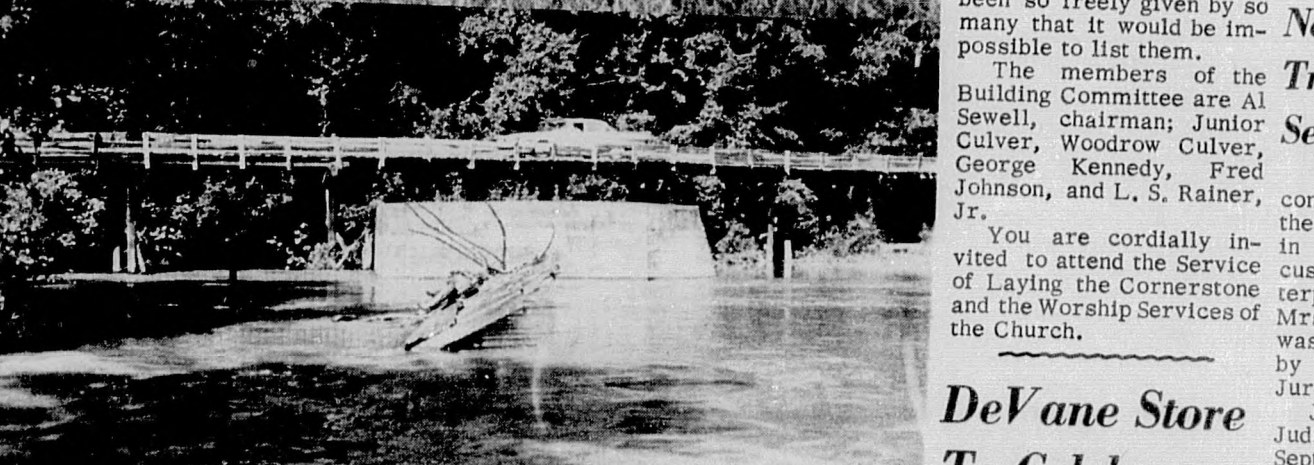

ELBA HIGH SCHOOL GETS NEW DRESS - Repairs have been completed of the Elba High School and Open House is announced for Sunday afternoon from three until five o'clock. Elmer Taylor, superintendent of the Elba Schools, and members of the City Board of Education will welcome visitors to the school during reception hours. (See story).

Methodist To Observe Educational Building Cornerstone Laying Ceremony

The Reverend R. I. Lawrence, pastor of the Methodist Church in Florida, and former pastor of the Elba Church, will return next Sunday, August 30, to take part in the Service of Laying the Cornerstone for the new Educational Building. This service will be held at the new building between the Sunday School and Morning Worship Hour. Mr. Lawrence will also preach at the Morning Worship Service.

This new educational building will almost double the Sunday School capacity of the church. In the almost 6,000 sq. ft. of space there will be ten classrooms, a kitchen, and a large fellowship hall. It is presently planned that this building will be used by the school age children and youth of the church. The members of the church deeply appreciate all of the very willing help and support given by so many in the community. Donations of time, labor, materials, and money have been so freely given by so many that it would be impossible to list them.

The members of the Building Committee are Al Sewell, chairman; Junior Culver, Woodrow Culver, George Kennedy, Fred Johnson, and L. S. Rainer, Jr. You are cordially invited to attend the Service of Laying the Cornerstone and the Worship Services of the Church.

Open House Sunday At Elba School

Mr. Elmer Taylor, superintendent of the Elba City Schools, announces Open House for Sunday afternoon, August 30th, when the public will have the opportunity to see the many improvements made in the high school building during the summer and completed this week.

Along with Mr. Taylor to welcome visitors will be members of the City School Board, Sam Collier, chairman, Jack Brunson, vice-chairman, Grady Thomas, Drexel Cook and Dr. James Clay, who was appointed to the board last Monday night, to fill the vacancy left when Julian Moore, resigned because of the family moving from Elba to Decatur, Georgia.

Included in the many improvements is a new roof on the building, a new cell-

Summerall Pays Tribute To Chamber

The Elba Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday night, August 18, at the Elba Country Club, Curtis Summerall, of Montgomery, was the speaker.

L. S. Rainer, Jr., chairman of the Industrial Committee, reported that the purchase of land for the Industrial Park, by the Chamber of Commerce, had been consummated that afternoon before the meeting. $2,000 advanced theory and music education degrees from Troy State College since 1955. He will begin his duties at Livingston College in September, replacing Vernon Raines, who will teach in Meridian, Mississippi and conduct the Meridian Symphony Orchestra.

Dr. Patrenos served as band director at Troy for five years and teaching piano, organ, and applied music. Before going to Troy he was high school band director and piano-organ teacher here in Elba, where he has resided since 1951. He is a native of Apalachicola, Florida.

He holds a B. S. degree from Troy, bachelor of music and master of music education degrees from Northwestern University toward a doctorate in music. Dr. and Mrs. Patrenos were complimented last Tuesday night when a number of their friends entertained at a reception in their honor.

Westside Baptist To Observe "Victory Sunday"

On Sunday, August 30th, the Westside Baptist Church of Elba will observe "Victory Sunday." This is a time when the church seeks to have high attendance in all of its services, seeks to reach at least $1,200.00 on its church debt, and a time of fellowship for all during the noon meal at the church.

This "Victory Sunday" will complete six years of winning victories without a single failure. Through the means of this "Victory Sunday" the church has paid off a debt of $22,000 on the church auditorium and is now paying off a debt of $55,000 on its educational building.

On this "Victory Sunday" the church members and others will have the opportunity to give a gift on the church debt in memory of Mrs. J. A. Boutwell to extend to each one an invitation to be in Sunday school at 9:45 A.M.; Training Union at 6:30 P.M.; and morning and evening worship services at 11:00 A.M. and 7:30 P.M.

Negro Killer's Trial Set For September 14

Ben Mathis, the Negro convict who escaped from the Enterprise road camp in June and who is accused of murdering an Enterprise couple, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Morgan, was indicted August 5th by a Coffee County Grand Jury in Enterprise.

Judge Eris Paul, 12th Judicial Circuit, has set September 14 for the hearing on arrangement and September 14 for trial. Mathis was indicted on three separate capital indictments for the murder of the couple.

Joe Pittman of Enterprise and Garth Lindsey of Elba are attorneys for the defense. But to accept the court's appointment, No. 1 lawyer relishes an appointment such as this.

DeVane Store To Celebrate Anniversary

James DeVane is announcing the DeVane Store's 15th anniversary celebration in this issue of the Elba Clipper. Duck Hunters Will Have Five Extra Days

Conservation Director Claude D. Kelley announced today that Alabama duck hunters can enjoy five more days of hunting this season than last as well as an increase in the bag limit on certain species.

Kelley said the hunting season on ducks and coots will run for 40 consecutive days from November 25 to January 3. Last season the duck hunting season lasted 35 days.

The season on geese will be the same as last season's. It will run for 70 consecutive days from November 2 to January 15.

The more liberal bag limit will include two red-heads, or two canvasbacks, or one of each species, the director said.

Charles Kelley, Chief of the Game and Fish Division, said, "This is the best news for Alabama duck hunters in several years."

He expressed reasonable satisfaction over the longer season and greater bag limit on ducks. Kelley said, "It is my opinion that the season and bag limit increases were due largely to the efforts of Alabama and other Southern states working through the Mississippi Flyway Council."

The council is an organization of game administrators and water-fowl specialists who study waterfowl conditions and then make recommendations regarding them to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, which has final authority in matters concerning length of season and bag limit.

Further details on the waterfowl seasons may be obtained from the Alabama Conservation Department.

Lieutenant Freeman will become the Administrative Officer at the Key West Naval Station.

In January 1963 he was promoted to his present rank of Lieutenant.

Lieutenant Freeman is married to the former Miss Dorothy Dubois Miles of Elba, Alabama. They have four children and will reside at 2111 Flagler Avenue in Key West, Florida.

White is undergoing extensive training in all types of tactical range firing and weapons familiarization during the day and night exercise.

Overseas since May 1962, he is regularly stationed near Kirch Gons, Germany, as a rifleman in Company C, 3d Battalion of the 3d Armored Division's 36th Infantry. White, employed as a brickman before entering the Army in November 1961, UNCLE CHARLIE PORTER ILL. - Friends regret to learn of the illness of aged Uncle Charlie Porter, at the Elba General Hospital. Uncle Charlie, as he is known by everyone in this area, became ill Monday. He is reported as being 110 years of age. He talks about Judge English and his age group as "boys" and their fathers as young men. Uncle Charlie remembers the days of slavery and was owned by a family named Porter, who's name he bears.

Until his illness he made his regular visits to town and only had the assistance of a cane. He made his regular weekly visit to The Clipper office for his copy of The Elba Clipper and always made some comment of "his friend, Governor George Wallace." His comments are that this nation needs more statesmen like Governor Wallace and this would be a better world to live in.

Uncle Charlie has more friends than he is old and he is known and recognized by the smallest to the now old citizens. Uncle Charlie was old when they were born, many are heard to say, in referring to him.

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

Where but in print can you get so close to the advertising messages that interest you? Where else can a woman clip the coupons and recipes that intrigue her? Or tear out tips to try on leftovers? Or mark, for future marketing, any of the colorful food ideas which strike her fancy? And where else can she circle and compare the colors and styles of clothing and furnishings that appeal to her?

Where else, in fact, can any message be re-run at will by an interested audience? So make sure a good part of your advertising message gets into print. Let somebody's eyes linger over it as long as they like. Let somebody's scissors clip it free of competition. And then watch someone's pocket or purse carry it to the place of purchase. Print makes sense because print makes sales.

FARM NEWS

J. R. SPEED, Associate County Agent, checks a group of replacement heifers on the farm of Charles Gibson, Route 2, Enterprise. Gibson along with W. H. Taylor of Elba & other cattlemen of Coffee County have enrolled in the Beef Cattle Improvement Association Program to increase cattle income. Speed pointed out that one phase of this program is designed to help cattlemen identify low producers which should be eliminated.

Every year peanut butter consumption rises. Most Coffee County farmers are helping to promote this program by voluntarily deducting $1 per ton. I hope that in a few years this promotion work will result in bigger allotments.

Thompson, assistant county agent, reports that Mike Renfro from the New Hope 4-H Club is Coffee County's official delegate.

Later on this fall, we hope to organize a Coffee County Forestry Committee to help us plan a good forestry program.

E. C. Brooks, vice president of the Alabama Peanut Producers Association, came in the office a few days ago to talk about the peanut butter promotion program. Brooks pointed out that the peanut butter forestry camp staff for promotional program has several years. H. B. exceeded all expectations.

1. "Fertilizer is the cheapest labor on the farm. Fertilizer has gone up in price less than any other farm tool used."

2. Fertilizer is the best chemical weed control we have because it enables desirable plants to compete successfully with undesirable plants.

3. Fertilizer makes the highest return on the investment of any item used on the farm today."

4. The members decide on careers to be discussed at each meeting and we help plan the program, which includes getting a successful person in that field to speak to the group."

Thompson adds, "The club's membership is limited at any one time to 24 members. Interest in the club is high now and I think limited membership is one reason," continues Thompson. "When you have a small group, each member becomes more responsible and important."

Thompson says a member missing three meetings in a row will be dropped from the club and membership committee will invite a new 4-H'er to join.

Newly elected officers of the club are Johnny Lolley, president, and Miranda McCall, vice president, both of Enterprise High School.

Miranda, 15 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.B. McCall, was the county 4-H dress revue winner this year. She has been a 4-H member for six years.

"I plan to attend college after graduation from high school but I haven't decided on a field of study yet," Miranda says. "I believe the new club will help me make a choice."

Fifteen year-old Johnny Lolley has completed seven years of 4-H work. He won the county public speaking derstand that these boys had a very worthwhile camp and represented the county well.

"Harvesting a quality crop" was the theme of the peanut pickers clinic held last Friday at the Wiregrass Substation in Headland. Among the Coffee County farmers attending this clinic were Harris Moates, Martin Moates, Ray Sanders, and Roy Ellis.

Cotton harvesting is getting off to a later start this year than I ever recall. The recent rains have certainly cut cotton yields severely. Very little cotton has been ginned to date. In visiting various parts of the county last week we saw several farmers defoliating their cotton. Defoliation will speed up the opening process and help decrease the rotting of the cotton bolls.

I'm sure that if the weatherman cooperates the fields of early runner peanuts will be dug this week. Keep a close check on yours by sampling the entire field. In order to determine the best digging date.

We still need a list of all the 4-H boys and girls that we want to purchase a calf to feed out for the 4-H, PFA and FFA fat calf show and sale next spring. Let me know just as soon as you decide.

I want to express my thanks to the members of the Enterprise Lion's Club and their wives, who operated in such a fine way, in making the annual family picnic a success last Thursday evening.

Several Coffee County farmers defoliated cotton last week. Ray McIntosh and J. R. Snellgrove and others in the Mt. Pleasant Community applied defoliants. Rollan and John Henry Day in the Asbury Community also defoliated.

It is difficult to know exactly when to defoliate. However, any time that you are gaining at the top, you should defoliate.

W.R. Thompson, leader in Extension Agronomy in Mississippi, had the following to say about fertilizer.

1. "Fertilizer is the cheapest labor on the farm. Fertilizer has gone up in price less than any other farm tool used."

2. Fertilizer is the best chemical weed control we have because it enables desirable plants to compete successfully with undesirable plants.

3. Fertilizer makes the highest return on the investment of any item used on the farm today."

Larger trees make more profit. A 12-inch tree will produce about twice as much lumber as a 10-inch tree.

Milking cows need 10 to 25 gallons of water daily, depending on production. There are more than 17 insects that eat on pecan trees.

The United States has switched. It was the largest importer of beans and peas; now it's the largest exporter of these commodities.

Per capita food consumption is expected to be about one per cent higher in 1964 than in '63. This annual increase would be the largest in five years.
